"Leadership Edge rose out of our passion for bringing future-focussed coaching practices and a coaching culture into schools"

- Jan Rudge, Director

Our approach is designed to create a cascade effect, which will benefit the whole school. As staff are trained and accredited they can then be the coaches for others, which greatly reduces the cost of training each person in your school and grows capacity at a greater rate.

3-TIER ACCREDITATION SYSTEM

Our 3-tier accreditation system is based on what teachers and educators identify as the competencies and skills that they look for in a school-based coach.

FOUNDATION COACH

Participants will learn about coaching skills and practices, and will receive an electronic skills booklet and accreditation portfolio. They will experience coaching as coachee over four sessions, delivered by a Leadership Edge Practitioner or Master Coach. Once the portfolio is complete, a final coach to coach conversation with a Leadership Edge Assessor is held in which the participant will articulate their reflections on the Foundation Stage and identify their next coaching step.

PRACTITIONER COACH

Participants will have gained a Leadership Edge Foundation Coach accreditation and will continue to develop their knowledge of coaching skills and practices and will receive an electronic skills booklet and accreditation portfolio. They are required to coach two people, at least one from within their organisation, and a Leadership Edge Associate Coach will provide for supervision sessions during this stage. The accreditation portfolio will evidence reflective feedback from both coach and coachee and a final coach to coach conversation with a Leadership Edge Assessor will help to determine the next coaching step.

MASTER COACH

Participants will have gained a Leadership Edge Practitioner Coach accreditation and you will receive electronically a models and think-piece booklet and accreditation portfolio. At Master Coach level participants will be building a coaching culture within their organisation, and will coach three people within their organisation and will have six coach supervision sessions, with a Leadership Edge Associate. The accreditation portfolio requires them to provide reflective feedback on their coaching across their three coachees and for their coachees to provide feedback on their coaching.
